SUMMARY —

I am a full-stack web developer with a background in customer service and hospitality. Helping people is what motivates me, and I've got technical knowledge to find a solution. I have provided technical support both in-person and remotely for iOS and Mac devices which provided the opportunity to use technical knowledge to help others. I have also worked for 8 years as both a server and bartender. During that time I gained experience with time-management and team work, as well as written and verbal communication.

TECHNOLOGIES —

- HTML 5, CSS 3, Javascript, jQuery
- Node, Express, MongoDB
- React
- Python, Django, SQL
- Git and Github
- RESTful Routing
- Object Oriented Programming, Test-Driven Development, Responsive Design

EDUCATION —

GENERAL ASSEMBLY, 2018-2019

Web Development Immersive

MERCER UNIVERSITY, 2004 - 2008

Bachelor of Arts, Major in Biology

PROJECTS —

- Simon | A replication of the classic Simon game using HTML, CSS, and Javascript. Gameplay utilizes object-oriented programming to generate the CPU moves, record the users moves, and advance the user to the next level. Link: <https://wsnjie.github.io/simon-game/>
- Squad App | A schedule making app for users that allows them to create a schedule for a multi-day event and compare that schedule to other users. Link: <https://evening-island-86988.herokuapp.com/>
- FestPack | A packing list app that allows a user to create a packing list for an event, mark items that need to be purchased, and then mark off items they have packed. Link: <https://fest-pack.herokuapp.com/>
